From childhood on words, he was interested in philosophy, spirituality, and psychology. And he completed his M. Sc psychology, turned into spirituality, and started reading many books, thus acquiring knowledge in different fields. The study of man and his mental power connected with the Universe is the key to his success. The power of meditation and gratitude practice led him to the path of truthfulness. He is a man of wisdom who loves his fellow beings and thinks about the well-being of society.
